Democratic Convention May Be Set For September

Late Convention Date Is Probable For Democrats

National Convention Time Not Fixed At Meeting Of National Committee

CONVENTION GOES TO CHICAGO, ILL.

Democrats Are Waiting For Action By G. O P. On Convention Plans

JACK VINCENT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Victorious in sending the 1940 Democratic national convention to Chicago, advocates of a third term for President Roosevelt today were supporting a September date for their convention.

While the third-term boom gained headlines, President Roosevelt himself remained silent, becoming increasingly irritable over efforts to smoke him out on the question.

Date for the Democratic convention was left open when Chicago was picked as the site at the meeting of the Democratic national committee yesterday. The move was designed to worry Republicans, who meet Feb. 16 to select a date and site for the GOP convention. The Republicans were expected to pick Chicago and vote for a July date "regardless of what the Democrats do."

Democratic national committeemen were to meet with the president in a reception at the White House later today to tell him of the welling third term sentiment.

GOP National Chairman John D. M. Hamilton chided the Democrats for failing to fix a date. In a statement, he commented "what a spectacle," meaning the Democrats. He stated that "here is a party that has been in power for seven and one-half years and yet it apparently

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Pa Newc witnessed a rather amusing incident yesterday afternoon in watching two cars race to get a certain parking spot on the main street at the diamond, the first car, a small truck, getting to the "pigeon hole" first and swinging on by, to watch the fellow behind him, dash for the same opening. He too, was fooled, when he found a bantam car parked in the "would be pigeon hole" which couldn't be seen only when almost on top of the midget vehicle. Both autoists continued on up East Washington street, to find another parking place.

Man Is Killed As Auto Skids

Charles W. Nunley, Of Boyles Avenue, Crushed Under Car This Morning

CAR OVERTURNS ON ICY HIGHWAY

Charles W. Nunley aged 49, of 201½ Boyles avenue, aluminum salesman was almost instantly killed at 8:15 this morning when an automobile in which he was a passenger, driven by William S. Spencer, aged 41, of 831 Morton St., skidded and overturned at the curve in the highway at the top of the Harbor Hill, a short distance beyond the airport on Route 422, west of the city. Nunley was caught under the machine and had his head crushed.

Extremely Slippery

According to Spencer, they were enroute to Youngstown to sell aluminum ware. The road was extremely slippery because of the rain and sleet which was falling. Because of the condition of the road, they were traveling at a moderate rate of speed, probably not faster than 25 miles an hour, when suddenly and without any warning, the car started to whirl around, and then overturned.

Spencer stated that he believed that Nunley, who was on the outside, attempted to get out of the car, and that when it over turned he was caught beneath it. Spencer was uninjured.

State police and Coroner T. Frank Nugent were notified and investigated the circumstances.

Charles Wesley Nunley had been a resident of New Castle for four years. He was born in Kentucky, November 16, 1890, the son of Andrew and Mary Prine Nunley.

Surviving are his widow, Bertha Brown Nunley and five children, Mrs. Audree Serbert, of Ravenna, O.; William Delbert, Ruth, Elma, and Mary Lou Nunley, of New Castle; and three grandchildren, Everett Nunley, of Byesville, O.; William Nunley, of New Castle; and Floyd Nunley, of Monticello, Ind. C., and Mrs. Carl McHenry, of Byesville, O.

The body was removed to the Boyd funeral home, where members of the family will receive friends on Wednesday from 2 to 4, and 7 to 9 p. m. Announcement of the funeral arrangements will be made Wednesday.

New Proposals Are Presented To Aid Finland

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6—Two new proposals for aid to Finland faced the Senate Foreign Relations committee to day as it convened to consider pending Finnish relief measures.

One would provide the little republic with a direct loan or grant of $5,000,000 — approximately the amount Finland has paid on its World War debt principal and interest due the United States.

The other sought to assure that the proposed export-import bank loans to Finland aggregated $30,000,000.

Both were sponsored by Senator Brown (D) Michigan, as adjuncts to his pending resolution increasing export-import bank capital $100,000,000, limiting single loans to $30,000,000 and barring credit for arms. Scheduled as a witness before the committee in behalf of his proposal Brown said he would informally offer both additions for discussion.

By COURTENAY TERRETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ON THE RUSSO-FINNISH FRONT, North Of Lake Ladoga, Feb. 6.—By extraordinary luck during the course of a visit to headquarters of the American volunteer ambulance corps in Finland, I found myself today near the scene of a great Finnish victory over the Russians, whose details are told here for the first time.

In this new triumph for Finland, the entire 18th Division of the Red army was wiped out—its 20,000 troops killed, taken prisoner or dispatched to almost certain death by freezing in the frigid wilderness north of Lake Ladoga and east of Sortavala.

Only Reporter On Scene

As the first and only reporter to reach the scene I can testify to the extent of the Soviet defeat.

I saw 42 Russian tanks completely destroyed and limitless quantities of war materials of all kinds jettisoned by the Russians over an area of 20 kilometres (12½ miles.)

The Finnish attack was so savage, swift and decisive that many wounded Russians froze to death in dugouts abandoned by their fleeing comrades. Even the political com-

Chicago Gets Democratic Convention

Business Men Well Pleased

Envision Flood Of Extra Dollars From 30,000 To 50,000 Visitors Expected

SELECTION LOGICAL CHICAGO ATTITUDE

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—Chicago business men were delighted today that the city has been selected as the site for the 1940 Democratic national convention, and envisioned a flood of extra dollars from the 30,000 to 50,000 expected convention visitors.

At the same time, President Oscar G. Mayer of the Association of Commerce hailed the selection as entirely "logical," saying:

"It is logical that the Democratic national committee should have honored Chicago again by naming it as the place of the 1940 presidential convention. Chicago, hub of the inland empire, probably reflects the present attitude of our citizens on current governmental affairs better than any other section of the country. Here the farmer and the industrialist meet on common ground."

Sixteen national conventions have been held in Chicago by the Republican and Democratic parties since 1860 and nine of the men nominated to the presidency here have been elected.

The successful candidates nominated in Chicago were Abraham Lincoln, 1860; Ulysses S. Grant, 1868; James A. Garfield, 1880; Grover Cleveland, 1884 and 1892; Benjamin Harrison, 1888; Theodore Roosevelt, 1904; William Howard Taft, 1908; Warren G. Harding, 1920, and Franklin D. Roosevelt, 1932. All but F.D.R. and Cleveland were Republicans.

missars attached to Red divisions had fled, leaving all their records and papers behind them. It might be remarked that in Soviet setbacks, the commissars are invariably the first to get away.

Helsinki, Feb. 6.—Twenty thousand more Russian troops today were reported trapped north of Lake Ladoga while "several hundreds" of Red army troops have been killed, according to the official Helsinki communique, in futile attacks.

A similar division of 20,000 men was annihilated in Finland's latest big victory, military information said, and the second unit was nipped by a swift encircling movement as it rushed to the aid of the first.

Russia's main offensive, however, remained concentrated on the Carelian Isthmus, where hammer blows under heavy artillery fire repeatedly were repulsed. Delaying any official reference to the rout of the Russian 18th Division, the Helsinki communique said:

"After preparatory artillery fire the enemy began a heavy attack at several points between Hatjalahdenjaervi and Summa on the Isthmus.

When the ice went off during the middle of January, quite a pile was left in the creek bed at the foot of Mercer street, which has frozen into a solid mass. Some people who have viewed the scene are afraid a gorge may form at that point if the rain which started falling this morning continues and causes the ice to move off again. Ice has formed to a thickness of eighteen inches in some places, it is stated.

How to Make a Splendid Cough Remedy at Home

A Big Saving, and It's So Easy! No Cooking!

Cough medicines usually contain a large quantity of sugar syrup—a good ingredient, but one which you can easily make at home. Take 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking! No trouble at all.

Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of truly wonderful medicine for coughs due to colds. It makes a real saving for you, because it gives you about four times as much for your money. It lasts a long time, never spoils, and children love it.

This is actually a surprisingly effective, quick-acting cough remedy. Promptly, you feel it taking hold. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes and makes breathing easy. You've never seen anything better for prompt and pleasing results.

Pinex is a compound containing Norway Pine and palatable guaiacol, in concentrated form, a most reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

DUST OR SPOTS CAUSE OF WEATHER?

VOLCANIC dust swirling about in the upper atmosphere has shut off much of the sun's warmth and brought upon the Northern Hemisphere a winter of record-shattering cold. So says Robert M. Dole, meteorologist at Portland, Me. He points to eruptions in Alaska and in the Southern Pacafic as the source of the dust and to unusually brilliant sunrises and sunsets as evidence of its presence. He refers to 1939 as "the year without a summer" as further sustaining his theory.

It is not the business of mere lay opinion to dispute the theories or conclusions of a meteorologist concerning such a puzzling subject as the weather, but one or two circumstances might be pointed out as tending to contradict the findings of the Maine observer. It is quite possible that 1939 was a year without a summer somewhere, but hereabouts there are vivid recollections of an August that seemed to be a little more than adequate on that score. Nor do the records in this section of the globe bear out the assertion that the winter thus far has been one of the most severe in years. It has, indeed, been a diligent season, hammering consistently at low temperatures, but making few, if any, records outside the sunny South so far as this continent is concerned. In Europe, to be sure, the story is quite the opposite. Winter there has gone to deplorable extremes. Yet if the spread of the volcanic dust has been world-wide, why has it not defended South America from the heat wave we were reading about not so long ago?

Mr. Dole seems to have overlooked the abundance of sunspots that have overstayed their welcome in the recently expired cycle, or are playing a return engagement. Other meteorologists have propounded the theory that sunspots seem to have a trick of speeding up the weather machine, or at least to go with such speeding up. They usually indicate a hotter sun, and a hotter sun so some meteorologists' way of thinking is a logical producer of colder weather through more vigorous stirring of the earth's envelope of air.

The mysteries of weather are far from being all solved, however, and until they are solved speculation upon them will be an engaging pastime.

CITY DEFAULTERS ON U. S. LOANS

Adding further to the backward prospects for the United States Treasury is the attitude the municipalities of the country are taking toward repaying Federal loans.

In recent years borrowing has been very easy for the cities. They have been getting improvements at half price and giving notes for the remainder. Some of the cities are paying, but 300 of them are in arrears. RFC and PWA are trying to get their money but the cities are aware that the Federal government will hardly foreclose on a waterworks or a sewer system. And the cities do not wish to increase already heavy local taxes to meet the payments.

Washington, D. C., is one defaulter. It issued five million dollars in bonds to pay for improvements. That municipality has kept up the interest but the government so far has been unable to collect any of the principal. Congress has been throwing items relating to it out of the budget.

These public works were pressed upon the country as "self-liquidating" projects. They were projects, all right. But the self-liquidating part seems to have missed fire.

JAPAN STILL SAYS IT WITH BOMBS

If Japan, as she so repeatedly asserts, is anxious to remove any obstacles to conclusion of a new commercial treaty with this country, she is taking a strange way to go about it.

The bombing of the last remaining railroad in China over which goods bound to and from the United States are carried and American citizens are transported on their legitimate errands has been made a proper subject for protest by our government.

Since this road is owned and operated by the French from Indo-China, the latest "incident" might be considered primarily their grievance. But it is a vital link in our own trade and communication and this is not the first outrage of the kind.

Tokio's alleged embarrassment because of inability to curb the rampant Japanese army chiefs in China in their continued assaults on American rights affords no excuse. The central government is the only one with which Washington can deal.

Persistent interference with our rights in China led to the denunciation of our commercial treaty with Japan which expired last month. The prospect for its renewal is becoming dimmer each day as Japan's actions belie her polite protestations of desire for better relations. Now her reckless course is directly strengthening the movement for an embargo on her trade with this country.

THE 'DON'T-PESTER-THE-BOSS' MAN

West Virginia seeking to honor its most distinguished sons, places the name of Colonel Andrew S. Rowan, U. S. A., retired, at the head of a list of 62 persons who are to receive medals voted by the state's legislature.

Rowan, now 83 and living in California, was the lieutenant who carried the "Message to Garcia" for President McKinley at the outbreak of the Spanish American War. The thing was of the stuff of heroism. Rowan accomplished a difficult feat, taking his life in his hands. That is why he eventually received a Congressional Medal of Honor.

But when Elbert Hubbard wrote his famous story about it forty years ago he sang not "of arms and the man." Instead he celebrated the quiet effectiveness of an individual who when he had a job to do, performed it without asking a lot of fool questions as to how, when and where he was to do it.

A sneering phrase maker once remarked that this made Rowan the outstanding "Yes-man" of all time. The truth is he is the outstanding "Don't-pester-the-boss Man' and he deserves all his medals, opines the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Farm income last year was eight and a half billions, the government says. But many farmers found the outgo was considerably more.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PAIN ACCENTS MEANING OF NO

Psyche did not hear the word NO from her parents until she began to climb and creep. The first time she heard it was at the moment when her hands were slapped as she was about to seize the handle of the gas get. It was no accident that her mother was present. The father and mother had foreseen that Psyche would examine this alluring object. They together had planned exactly what was to be done by the parent who would be nearest to the child.

Little Psyche's heart was almost broken. So was her mother's, but she was calm, and she began at once to talk about the little elephant which she lifted to the child's wagon. Immediately Psyche turned to the wagon and elephant, and the mother to her work. When the mother had occasion to spend some time upstairs, the father went to the kitchen with Psyche. Pretty soon the child reached again for the gas jet, and immediately her hand was slapped by the father's right hand as he held hers in his left. At the same time he uttered NO just once.

She Was Cured

Psyche cried, but only for a moment, and then turned to her toys, while Dad moved some dishes from the table to the cupboard, as if nothing at all unusual had happened. From that time on through the next several weeks Psyche never was alone in the kitchen. But she has never touched the gas jet since, and she is now five.

From other dangerous things Psyche merely had been kept. The next thing the parents agreed to teach this baby to avoid was reaching above her for things on the kitchen table or work shelf.

The program was launched on Saturday at noon, so that Father would be home, with Sunday also ahead, for the constant presence of one or both parents. Their slogan was, "Immediate pain on the first offense, and no exceptions."

Let Her Choose

During the day Psyche reached above her in the kitchen for objects on the table or work shelf just four times, and four times she got immediate pain as she heard NO clearly and distinctly. They had planned deliberately to let her choose and bear the consequences.

Never were they concerned about immediate prevention only, else she would have just been gently seized and pulled away or distracted from the dangerous object, or the dangerous object would have been pushed beyond her reach. They wanted Psyche to desist from reaching above herself in the kitchen so that she would acquire the habit permanently.

The purpose was to connect pain certainly in her nervous system with the act to be avoided automatically. They had set out to teach Psyche to keep herself from reaching up in the kitchen. In like manner they later taught her to keep herself from running into the street. And eventually NO alone sufficed as a deterrent and served as a foundation in Psyche's nervous system for regard for constituted authority.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Would you ever try to force the child to confess after you had all the facts necessary to prove his guilt?

A. I should count myself a bully if I did. While a voluntary confession might be good for the soul, a forced confession is bad for the forcer and forcee.

Q. What do you think of the advice: "Spank only after everything else has failed?"

A. I consider it silly advice. When everything else has failed, you are hardly emotionally fit to spank the child, and he is hardly fit then emotionally to profit from the spanking.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

PRINTING

The year 1940 is the three hundredth, the four hundredth, and pretty close to the five hundredth anniversary of events in the history of printing. Publishers and libraries are having high jinks over it, and so might the rest of us, for it was printing, even more than gunpowder and the compass, that made the modern world. All inventions since were made easier by the international net work of scientists, dependent upon printing for keeping up with each other's work and climbing on each other's shoulders.

Yet the New York Times book columnist cornered a professional printer and a professional editor at lunch, and not one knew any of the three events 1940 centenializes. And we can't say we blame them.

1440—The traditional year when "printing began," though it is not known that Guttenberg had begun printing near 1435, and that he was preceded by Chinese, Korean and probably several European contemporaries.

1540—Juan Pablos printed the "Manual de Adultos," in Mexico City, believed to be the earliest surviving bit of New World printing.

1640—Stephen Daye published the "Bay Psalm Book" in Cambridge, Massachusetts Bay Colony. This is thought to be the first book printed in what is now the United States.

Responsibility for making the modern world is less of an honor now than it was a few years back, but even the professional turn-the-clock-backers generally favor the retention of printing.

The woodwork of a room is a part of its background. Take care that its color and lines are never too apparent. Avoid a finish that shows conspicuous graining. Generally speaking, it is advisable to make the color value of your woodwork blend with that of the wallpaper or other background and to avoid any color scheme that throws it in contrast with your walls. An exception could be made where wood trim has beautiful proportions or where doors and windows are so placed that they make a pleasing pattern against the walls.

Readers' Questions Answered

Dear Miss Markel: At my forthcoming wedding reception who should receive with my father—his new wife (my stepmother) or my older sister, who has taken care of me since my mother's death many years ago? I am most anxious to do the right thing but am in a quandary on this point.

—Bridegroom.

Answer: Since it would be a definite snub to your father's new wife for you to have her excluded from the receiving line, why not have both your sister and your stepmother stand by your father—one on each side? However, the bridegroom's father need not stand in the receiving line, if he prefers to mingle with the guests. In this latter case, your older sister might receive along with the bride's mother and your stepmother may stand with her or with your father, as she prefers. Let her choose.

Wheeler Becoming Important Factor
Formidable As Compromise Candidate
Has Developed Considerable Strength

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—In the course of a very few days recently Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana developed from a mere possibility for the Democratic presidential nomination into quite a formidable candidate. He's been mentioned all along, to be sure, but only as a long-shot heretofore. Now it appears that he's to be reckoned with seriously. To say that he's the leading probability would be an exaggeration at present. Nevertheless, he's somewhere in the leading group, anyway.

Of course this is leaving out of consideration the chance that President Roosevelt consents to be drafted for a third term in the White House. If he does so, the best political betting is that he WILL be drafted. The question whether or not he can be re-elected is open to discussion, but it generally is conceded that he can be RENOMINATED—if he tacitly wants to be.

Senator Wheeler himself agrees that F. D., though he may not choose to try for his own successorship, undoubtedly can foreclose against any other Democrat whom he may object to.

Yet it doesn't follow that the president can PICK his preferred candidate and make his party's convention acquiesce in his selection.

Much earlier in the game the popular political impression was that F. D. favored Henry A. Wallace, Harold L. Ickes or Harry L. Hopkins. All these have gone flooey for various reasons. Then Paul V. McNutt got into the limelight. He hasn't made particularly good. Today he doesn't look to be as safe a gamble as Wheeler—not with the pubic, whatever F. D. may think about it.

Garner and Hull

Then there are John N. Garner and Cordell Hull.

Nobody believes that Garner can be acceptable to the New Dealers.

Hull is an old-fashioned democratic (small "d") liberal. No New Dealer conscientiously can balk at him, but he isn't a Rooseveltian New Dealer.

Now, is Senator Wheeler a liberal? He IS—and "then some." He's been a rampant radical. He's fought for the I. W. W. He's spoken well of the Leninist revolution in Russia. He's been a darned sight more advanced than ever the New Deal has been. Once he seceded from the Democratic party, to run, as a candidate in second place, on the presidenttial ticket with the elder Senator Robert M. La Follette.

He was a rip-snorting leftist.

But presently he turned against the New Deal on the Rooseveltian supreme court packing proposition. He led the campaign, indeed. The New Deal's story was that he'd transformed himself into a reactionary. I don't think so. I think he simply was a good democrat (small "d") on that issue. Perhaps he isn't as far to the leftward as he used to be, but he's not a rightist by any means.

However, I suspect that he'll be criticized both ways—by New Dealers as a conservative; by conservatives as an ultra-liberal.

All the same, John L. Lewis is very friendly to him and Senator George W. Norris approves of him as a presidential candidate, with the qualification that F. D.'s candidacy (if the latter's a candidate) comes first in his favor. Lewis and Norris certainly come under the liberal heading. Senator Alva B. Adams of Colorado also speaks well of Burton K. I wouldn't call Adams a pronounced conservative, but neither would I call him a violent liberal, like Senator Norris.

Somewhat a Compromise

As remarked, Wheeler is likely to be objected to by both liberals and conservatives—by some in both groups.

Yet in a queer fashion, he also is a sort of a compromise. There are liberals who take to him because of his past record. There may be conservatives who will indorse him on the theory that he's flopped over in their direction.

At all events, Lewis and Adams have given him a lot of excellent advertising. He's at least twice as

The Backfire On Mr. Dewey

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.

IT IS interesting that the two leading candidates for the Republican Presidential nomination should both have trouble at home. Senator Taft, whose "trouble" was named Bricker, has succeeded now in straightening out the situation in a highly satisfactory manner, so that he is assured of the sincere and solid support of his own State. In consequence, his stock has had a considerable rise lately and he seems leading in the race.

THE troubles of Mr. Dewey, however, appear to increase rather than diminish. Of course, his most obvious difficulty at the moment is the candidacy of Mr. Frank Gannett, the up-State publisher of a chain of newspapers. No clear-thinking politician expects Mr. Gannett to be nominated. Exactly why he is a candidate is difficult to understand. While he is an able man of high character, certainly there was no popular demand for him and no one, except himself, takes his candidacy seriously. The effect, however, is to give Mr. Dewey's enemies within his party an opportunity to make their animosity felt and to deprive him of the solid support of his State. If Mr. Gannett stays in the field—and there is no reason to think he will not—he probably will get as many as twenty of the ninety-four delegates which otherwise would be for Dewey.

IT IS not a pleasant situation for Mr. Dewey, but there is little he can do about it. There seems slight chance that he can induce Mr. Gannett to retire and indorse him as Governor Bricker indorsed Senator Taft. There are a number of New York Republican politicians anxious to keep the Gannett candidacy vibrant for the sole purpose of weakening Mr. Dewey in the convention. Exactly why they should want to weaken him is a question to which no adequate answer has been given. It would seem natural that these Republican politicians would be interested in building Mr. Dewey up instead of pulling him down. By reason of his record as district attorney and his extraordinary fight for the Governorship he has become a leading available for the Presidential nomination. There is no other Republican from New York who has the remotest chance to be nominated.

YET no secret is made that the little stories which appear in print derogatory to Mr. Dewey come from Republican politicians who are supposed to be supporting him. Mostly these dwell upon alleged unpleasant personal characteristics of Mr. Dewey. He is described as "arrogant" and "conceited," "immature," a publicity seeker unwilling to give credit to anyone except himself, and so on and so forth. The New Deal strategists, for obvious reasons, cooperate in this anti-Dewey campaign and in columns which consistently reflect the "inner circle."

Lieutenant William Hindson (inset), U. S. army flier, owes his life to two heroic boy scouts who brought him and Private James P. The boys, Raymond Kane (left), 16, and Hyel Ching, 14, (right), plunged into the ocean after the fliers when they saw no rescue craft was available.

presidentially noticeable today as he was two or three weeks ago. His state of Montana isn't particularly good geography. It doesn't cast votes enough. Still, the Butte solon is pretty popular in many other western states—as witness the utterances of Norris of Nebraska and Adams of Colorado. And labor likes him if John L. Lewis speaks for a sizable aggregation of it. He was a great political crony of the late Senator William E. Borah, too.

This is a mixed-up crowd—Borah who called himself a Republican; Adams, a Democrat; Norris, an Independent; Lewis the C. I. O.s Chieftain.

It indicates that But has plenty of all-around appeal, though.

The Great Game Of Politics

slurs, slams and sneers at Mr. Dewey appear with considerable frequency. This is pretty small stuff, but typical.

IT IS curious that men who on the surface, politically and personally, are for Mr. Dewey should engage in this surreptitious effort to disparage him. How much, if any, this is hurting Mr. Dewey is impossible to tell, but certainly it is doing him no good. Nor is there anything he can do about it. The only explanation given for what is going on is that certain leading Republican politicians in New York "don't like" Mr. Dewey. The basis for their distaste seems to be more resentment of his political success than anything else. What these politicians really dislike is that a young man of 37 years of age, with what they think no record of party service, should rise so suddenly to a political height where he overshadows every other party man in the State, including themselves. It seems a clear case of malice.

THIS is accentuated by Mr. Dewey's disposition not to accept all the advice tendered by his party elders. He seems inclined to make up his own mind and proceed on his own lines. In brief, the hostility to Dewey among New York Republican politicians is partly due to jealousy of his spectacular rise and partly to their inability to establish ascendancy over him. Both these things are to Mr. Dewey's credit, but they do not endear him to the politicians. That, despite this backfire at home, Mr. Dewey has developed strength enough to be one of the two leading candidates in the country, is something of a tribute to him. His friends take comfort from the fact that in 1932 more than half the New York delegation to the 1932 Democratic Convention was strongly opposed to Franklin Roosevelt. The New York politicians did not like him either.

CORRECTION

In this column some days ago the statement was made that the Federal Register is a Government publication of limited circulation in which Executive orders are recorded; that it is published by the Office of Government Reports and that the order giving the Black Committee access to income tax figures in 1935 was buried therein, Major Kennedy, director of the Federal Register, points out that it has a circulation of 9,000, is part of the Bureau of National Archives, not of the Office of Reports, and did not print the Black Committee order because it was not in existence at the time. It is a pleasure to make these corrections, but they do not affect the facts that the order giving the Black Committee authority was a secret order or that the creation of the new "Coordinating Committee" was not publicized until three weeks after its creation. At the completion of the meal, interesting talks and remarks were given by members of the family, the first being Caesar Scarazzo, the oldest member of the family, who thanked his children for the great occasion.

The toastmaster, James L. Scarazzo was in charge later and introduced the following speakers: Alfonso Scarazzo, Anthony Scarazzo, Elrick H. Scarazzo and Mrs. Pat Scarazzo, president of the Scarazzo Socialites.

Music and informal diversions claimed attention for the group and plans were made to meet on Sunday February 11, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso Scarazzo, Hazelcroft avenue.

Britain Feels Safe In India

Confident Any Attack Made By Russia Will Fail

MILITARY CHIEFS WELL PREPARED

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON.—British leaders in all walks of life, and particularly in the military sphere, are confident today that any Russian attack on India would be bound to fail.

There is not the slightest douot it would add to British anxieties and responsibilities, and might at the beginning cause real trouble for Britain, but at the same time no person in any responsible position here has any doubt about the ultimate outcome of such an attack.

British military chiefs in India are fully prepared for all emergencies. The fact they are satisfied with their present defensive strength is seen in the arrival in France of the first contingents of Indian troops, who would not have been dispatched from their homeland if the experts had any misgivings about a Russian invasion.

Danger Is From Air

The main danger would probably first come from the air, in the view of the experts. To meet this India is organizing her air raid precautions system, and the Royal Air Force there is being considerably expanded, with at least one squadron manned by Indian pilots.

Air Force personnel have in recent years obtained valuable experience of North West Frontier flying. Constant air patrols are maintained in the frontier area and it is believed the average British air force machine and pilot will prove a match for any Russian flier attempting to make the long hop to attack India.

Russian military leaders would be foolhardy to attempt to embark on a land campaign against India, in the opinion of foremost British military leaders.

They point out that Russian troops would have to march across hundreds of miles of country raging from desert to barren rocks and would stand no chance against an English-trained army at the end of their march.

At the same time the Russians would be harried by Turkish, British and French troops on their flanks and at their rear.

Routes Of Invasion

There are four routes by which a Russian invasion could be attempted:

1. Over the Afghanistan border via Termez and Kabul to Peshawar. This is the one anticipated for many years.
2. Over the Baluchistan border via Persia and South Afghanistan.
3. An invasion from Tashkent and Khokand into Kashmir.
4. An attack from Turkestan and Tibet to invade Nepal and Northern India.

To prepare for such ventures it is known the Russians have made important military bases at Baku and Orenburg, and have recently increased their military forces at these places and formed large accumulations of military stores.

It is known, and has been reported from time to time during the last ten years, that the Politbureau of the Russian army and its general staff have been working on various schemes for threatening India when the time was ripe.

Most British military men regard these schemes as coming within the realm of threats only, and do not seriously believe the Soviets will so far ignor the military science and strategy as to attempt an invasion of India at the present time

NAZIS EXTEND DEATH PENALTY FOR 'GANGSTERS'

(International News Service)

BERLIN—"Death to gangsters" is the slogan of the Reich in its struggle against criminal elements.

The Council of Ministers for the Defense of the Reich, upon the request of the Minister of Justice, issued new and stricter regulations for the punishment of capital criminal offenders.

"The severest procedure," it is stated, "has now been decided on against any gangster applying gangsters methods before or after the commitment of a crime."

From now on anyone employing knives, firearms or similar dangerous weapons such as acid, or threatening the life of another person, with the use of arms to commit rape, holdup, burglary or any other capital crime will be sentenced to death. The same punishment awaits criminals using arms to attack or hold off pursurers.

Community Chest Re-Names Samuels

Other Officers Re-elected As Directors Organize For 1940

Alec Samuels, prominent in civic affairs, last night was re-elected president of the New Castle Community Chest for 1940.

He was returned to the post when the board of directors held its annual organization meeting at the Y. W. C. A.

W. Herbert Smith was re-named first vice president and Dr. Jay L. Reed, a director for some time, was elevated to the second vice presidency. Frank A. Hover, secretary, and Dr. A. W. Shewman, treasurer, were also re-elected.

The board approved the election of four new board members but withheld announcement of their names until their formal acceptance.

Mrs. Winifred F. Cooney, executive secretary, who told the board that $27,468 of the $57,610 subscribed during the public drive last fall has already been paid in, said the 1940 campaign chairman will be announced at the March meeting.

The board last night authorized payment of the usual one-twelfth grant to all its nine agencies.

After four years of experimenting, five scientists at Rutgers university, New Brunswick, N. One of the scientists tested the new product in a marsh, smearing half on his body with the product and leaving the other half untreated. He was bitten more than 5,000 times on the untreated skin, while insects carefully avoided the treated portion.

Senator Eroe's Appeal Is Heard

Hearing Takes Place At Harrisburg—Eroe Not Present In Person

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 6.—The unemployment compensation board of review today took under consideration an appeal from State Sen. William J. Eroe, a Democrat, Lawrence-Beaver county district, asking for jobless pay benefits.

A public hearing on Eroe's appeal was held before the entire board this morning. Eroe did not appear in person, but filed a "written discussion" of the case with the board.

Eroe's appeal was from decisions of an unemployment compensation referee and the unemployment compensation divsion of the department of labor and industry denying him jobless pay benefits on the grounds he was not totally unemployed.

In his "written discussions," which was read into the record, Eroe contended that he is totally unemployed because he will received no more senatorial pay before his term expires Nov. 30, 1940, unless there is a special session of the legislature. He was dismissed from a salesman's position with the American Cyanamid Chemical Co., of Pittsburgh.

Attornep Charles O'Leary, counsel for the unemployment compensation division, opposed Eroe's appeal. He contended that Eroe is still employed as a senator.

The board indicated it would render a decision later this week. If adverse to Eroe, he can carry his fight to the superior court of Pennsylvania.

British Airman Fails To Find Field

Camouflage Of Air Force Reaches New High Point

By HOWARD BERRY
International News Services Staff Correspondent

LONDON—So successful has the camouflaging of airfields become in Britain today that it is claimed even Royal Air force pilots are experiencing difficulty in finding them.

A young British airman who was recently told to fly from one airfield in the north of England to another well known airfield near London could not find his objective.

Some three weeks previously he had made a perfect landing on the airfield, which could then be seen for miles.

Gasoline running low, the pilot circled and made a landing at another airfield to ask what had happened.

The "missing" airfield had been camouflaged so successfully that it was unrecognizable from the air.

It was one of the successes achieved by Lieut. Col. C. R. Chesney, D. S. O., British camouflage expert.

"Samouflage will play even a greater part in this war than it did in the last" said Colonel Chesney. "But much rubbish is written about its uses."

TREES AND LIGHTNING

Any kind of a tree is likely to be struck by lightning. The greatest number struck in a locality will be the dominant species. The likelihood of a tree's being struck by lightning is increased: (a) If it is taller than surrounding trees; (b) if it is isolated, (c) if it is on high ground; (d) if it is well (deeply) rotted; (s) if it is the best conductor at the moment of the flash—that is, if temporary conditions, such as being wet by rain, transform it for the time from a poor conductor to a good one.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 6.—Memories on Capitol Hill go back this month 43 years when the state capitol was destroyed by fire . . . the fire occurred around noon, while the legislature was in session . . . the smoke became so thick that the house was unable to continue its business . . . the members fled, the danger being so imminent that some jumped out of the windows.

The entire building rapidly went up in flames . . . an hour or so after the fire broke out the capitol dome collapsed . . . over the noise of the crackle of flames and the crash of bricks and mortar could be heard the clanging of the bell of the clocks . . . the flames burned the ropes of the American flag on the flag pole and the ensign "slid gracefully and gloriously into the fire," as a writer of 1897 described it.

The capitol fire was the greatest in Harrisburg's history . . . it was believed to have started in an office attached to the senate . . . 20 firemen were injured, several of them by window panes which toppled onto their heads . . . the old state house was dedicated January 2, 1822, and stood for 75 years . . . after the fire the legislature met for a time in a church.

Latest report on Capitol Hill is that Henry Houck, Jr., Schuylkill county Republican leader and former common pleas judge, has been tendered the post of member of the Liquor Control Board . . . young Houck, whose father was a power in the Republican politics for many years, was a classmate of Governor James at Dickinson College.

For some time it has been reported that Dean W. H. Hitchler, present Liquor Board chairman, would resign in order to devote further time to his duties as head of the Dickinson College Law school. First reports were that the job, which pays $10,000 a year, would go to C. M. Hershey, James leader in Lancaster county, the idea being to get him out of active county politics and thus placate G. Graybill Diehm, former Pinchot leader whose forces decisively defeated the James people in the last primary . . . there is already one vacancy on the Liquor Board.

Release by the Republican National committee of the list of Republican Lincoln Day radio broadcasts caused some bewilderment among Governor James' advisers, because the governor's name was not listed . . . attaches of the governor's office at first said it was their understanding that the James speech would be broadcast over a nationwide network, along with those of Thomas E. Dewey of New York, who will speak from Portland, Oregon; Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, who will speak February 10 from St. Paul; Rep. Bruce Barton of New York, speaking from Buffalo; former President Hoover, speaking from Omaha; John Hamilton, G.O.P. national chairman, speaking from New York, and several others . . . later, however, they disclosed that the governor's speech would not be broadcast.

Brushing off the dust of antiquity the Bar Association has dug out the Inns of Court, an old institution and is now reviving it. A group of the younger attorneys are responsible for the movement and within the next month it should get under way.

The Inns of Court is a copy of a British custom among attorneys. It is really a legal clinic at which the attorneys discuss knotty legal problems. There was a time when the clinic flourished but for a number of reasons it lost its popularity.

It is planned to hold meetings twice a month probably at dinner time in the evening. Outstanding attorneys would be invited to attend, from time to time, and a forum held at each meeting.

As to the banquet of the Bar Association, rumor in the law library has it that it will be held some time this month, possibly on Washington's birthday. Attorney Edwin K. Logan favors naming a specific date instead of a birthday as he wants to be sure the lawyers won't find the birthday moved up a week by presidential decree.

Before Judges W. Walter Braham and Thomas W. Dickey the motion to quash a petition for a mandamus was heard Monday. The mandamus was asked for by James Vesella and others to force Charles W. Miller, treasurer of the Democratic county committee to bring in the books of the party for audit.

Appearing for Miller, Attorney Clarence A. Patterson argued that the court was without jurisdiction and that the petition was improperly drawn. He argued that the matter had been adjudicated in part by the state executive committee last Friday in Harrisburg when that body ruled the meeting of the insurgent Democrats illegal. It was at this meeting the resolution to audit the books was passed.

For the petitioners Attorney John S. Powers argued that the question before the court did not go into the ramifications set out by Patterson, that the question was whether or not the members of the party could bring in the books for audit. Briefs are to be filed in the case and a decision will come down later.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

"How use doth breed a habit in man," generalized Shakespeare.

We can apply this expression to children, too.

Habits are fixed practices resulting from constant repetition.

Every human being is a bundle of habits—some good, some bad.

The child is apt to develop some habits which are detrimental.

Among these are poor posture habits.

They are acquired instead of being instinctive.

Therefore, it is possible, with patience, to correct them.

Slouching in a chair is one of the easiest habits to form.

Sitting or standing straight makes for better general health.

Thumb-sucking in an infant may lead to irregular tooth formation.

Attracting the child into other thought and action is urged.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1939 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Is swing insinuating itself even into the slow-paced old hymns so dear to our forefathers? At the meeting of the Hymn Society of America in New York, it was disclosed that the old hymns are being stepped up in tempo and otherwise modernized. The Rev. Louis E. Daniels, canon of Trinity Cathedral, Cleveland, says:

"There's a new virility in hymns—more manliness. We're getting away from sentimentality."

The Rev. Mr. Daniels said hymns were becoming more "topical." They are working "atoms," and "invisible forces" into them, notably in a new one called "Onward, Ever Onward." Another is called "Peace in Our Time, Oh Lord," and he explained that this meant world peace, rather than "the peace which passeth understanding," which we have invoked in the past.

One might feel secure in building his house on atoms, rather than on the rock of faith, but here, again, the outreach for the eternal verities is but tentative, if one stops to consider what atoms are or may be. Atoms are quite as hypothetical as St. Paul's "substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." Indeed, no one has seen them and no one knows their substance. They are creatures of mathematical formulae, of balanced equations. They serve in the "as if" zone of human mentality—nicely, to be sure, and scientific processes may safely be based on them.

But the hymnologists weren't so ultra-modern in picking for them up-to-date inspiration. Long before the era of Christianity, when Psammeticus of Egypt opened the ports of his country to the Greeks, the philosopher Thales carried to that land a theory of infinitesimal particles making up the universe. A qualified theologian might chide the Rev. Mr. Daniels for going back to paganism in his search for modernity.

When Denman Thompson played in "Way Down East," the old hymns perhaps struck deeper chords in our hearts than they do today. At any rate, when the light shone through the church windows, and the song within was faintly heard, the sinner was brought back to the fold, to the tearful gratification of even the irreverent gallery. That was, no doubt, the "sentimentality," which Canon Daniels says the churchmen are trying to avoid. But, for the moment at least the theatre seemed to be searching down in some deep crypts of enduring faith, and one wonders whether it will be so with the new atomic hymns.

Many old hymns are, indeed, banal. There was one, I believe in the hymnal of one of the Non-Conformist churches of England, naively staging all the beasts of the earth in the joy of the millenium. I heard a great congregation of Cornishmen roaring the lines, "The HEN shall cry her adulation, on THE glad day of our salvation." Archibald MacLeish, Robinson Jeffers, et al., might do a remodeling job on that one, and quite a few others. But somehow it would be like a committee of painters doing over one of the canvases of Peter Breughel, in which he so livingly and devotedly brings all small creatures, hens included, to the adoration of the Madonna.

Banal, too, is a great deal of loved folk poetry. Some of the lines of the old Elizabethan, German or French folks songs sound pretty silly when you snatch them away from their lively tune, or their age-old euphonics which have implanted them in the hearths, if not the heads, of many generations. Old hymns are great "time-binders." Even the backslider, faring far from the village church, growing gray in errant, or wavering belief, recovers a mood and perhaps a sense of veneration for the infinite mystery if he hears the old hymns again in the chapel of his youth. This may be stated as a purely secular observation, bearing on the time when the chasm between the generation is possibly wider than its normally is. We wonder if the hymn society can ever build these associations into hymns about atoms.

FIND GRENADE

ST. LOUIS—Workmen cleaning a cellar at St. Louis university found an old World war hand grenade and turned it over to the police. Officers dismembered it and threw the parts into the Mississippi river. Police said the grenade apparently had been saved by a veteran who later attended the university.

DO WE HAVE TO DIE?

A strange man in Los Angeles, known as "The Voice of Two Worlds," reveals the story of a remarkable system that often leads to almost unbelievable improvement in power of mind, achievement of brilliant business and professional success and new happiness. Many report improvement in health. Others tell of increased bodily strength, magnetic personality, courage and poise.

The man, a well known explorer and geographer, tells how he found these strange methods in far-off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. He discloses how he learned rare wisdom and long hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled many to perform amazing feats. He maintains that these immense powers are latent in all of us, and that methods for using them are now simplified so that they can be used by almost any person with ordinary intelligence.

He maintains that man, instead of being limited by a one-man-power mind, has within him the mind-power of a thousand men or more as well as the energy-power of the universe which can be used in his daily affairs. He states that this sleeping giant of mind-power when awakened, can make man capable of surprising accomplishments, from the prolonging of youth, to success in many fields. To that eternal question, "Do we have to die?" his answer is astounding.

The author states the time has come for this long hidden system to be disclosed to the western world and offers to send his amazing 9,000-word treatise—which reveals many startling results—to sincere readers of this paper, free of cost or obligation. For your free copy, address the Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 South Hobart blvd., Dept. 25K. Los Angeles, Calif. Readers are urged to write promptly, as only a limited number of the free treatises have been printed.—Adv.

Auto Noses Out Home as Popular Place to Propose

Boy: "Er—dear—there's something I—er—want to ask you—er—." | Girl: "Why, of course I'll marry you—if that's what you mean." | Flash! Cupid wins by a knockout! Victory is sealed with a kiss!

A study of 1,181 proposals of marriage conducted by the Institute of Family Relations in Los Angeles, Cal., reveals that when Boy pops the big question to Girl it's one chance in four they are seated in his car. Twenty-three per cent of marriage proposals take place in the girl's home which formerly held a big lead over all other proposal sites. Twenty per cent of the proposals are made in public places such as the street, parks, campus or a restaurant, the survey shows. Thirteen per cent of the "will you be mine?" queries occur on vacation trips or while traveling. Only six out of every 100 proposals are made via telegram.

Clark Finds Winter Driving Peril In South

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Clark were back home here today, following a southern "pleasure" tour which wasn't altogether that because almost 3,000 of the 4,000 miles the Clarks drove was over perilous snow-covered highways.

Clark, executive of the plumbing firm of William M. Clark & Co., Inc., left New Castle with his wife two weeks ago in a spic and span 1940 coupe, rightfully anticipating a rest and a pleasant driving trip.

But the weatherman's tricks—the guy the whole south's talking about—tripped them up.

"Down in New Orleans we stayed in our hotel room for two days—was it cold!" Clark said.

Everything was snow and ice and more snow and ice. And did they strike snow in Atlanta, in Georgia,—well, you can ask Clark himself.

"I put chains on the car at Atlanta and took them off at Monaca, Pa.," related Clark. "For 75 miles of that distance I drove without them because the links had worn out again and it was dark and I didn't care to stop. But I couldn't drive safely over 25 miles an hour."

That's why Clark added:

"Glad to be home? What do you think?"

The Clarks reside at North Mercer and Grant streets.

Mrs. Flora Boylan Leaves Many Friends

Exemplary Life Led By Former County Resident Who Passed Away In Toledo

Mrs. Flora Moore Boylan, a native of Pulaski township, who passed away in the Flowers hospital of Toledo, O., and was buried in the family plot at Hopewell cemetery, New Bedford, was a beloved resident and school teacher in Lawrence county for many years. A friend gives The News data unavailable here when the death was announced.

Mrs. Boylan was born and reared in Pulaski township, and after attending the township schools, spent some time in Edinboro State Normal school, and later attended Grove City College. Her teaching days in her native state were spent in Pulaski, Shenango and Slippery Rock townships. Going West, she taught many years in Omaha, Neb. It was there she met and was united in marriage with Charles Boylan, a young business man of Chicago. While residing in Chicago she soon became affiliated with the Plymouth Congregational church and was installed as matron and superintendent of the Parish House. In her early youth she had joined the Hopewell Presbyterian church in New Bedford and through her long life she followed the gleam of her early Christian training. She became very active in the Plymouth church; class after class, through her efforts, were sent into the world fully equipped as leaders in their chosen fields of Christian work. Her path and days were filled with good deeds. Later, removing to Toledo, O., she and her husband became charter members of the newly organized Pilgrim Congregational church, and immediately Mrs. Boylan resumed responsibilities in the Sabbath school, superintending the work, until overtaken by poor health and serving as deaconess. She led an exemplary, constructive life, and her work lives on.

Colonel Lynnn G. Adams To Speak On "Citizenship And Scouting"

This dinner-meeting is open to the public and especially to fathers and mothers of Scouts—friends of Scouting, and in fact all who are interested in the promotion of better citizenship.

Just call either 5477 or 811 and tell them how many tickets you want and a Scout will bring them to your house or office. The tickets are only 75 cents each.

The Pleasant Way to Correct Constipation
Why let yourself in for all the discomfort of constipation—and then have to take an emergency medicine—if you can avoid both by getting at the cause of the trouble?
If your difficulty, like that of millions, is due to lack of "bulk" in the diet, the "better way" is to eat Kellogg's All-Bran. If you eat it every day, it will help you not only to get regular but to keep regular, month after month, by the pleasantest means you ever knew!
Eat All-Bran often, drink plenty of water, and "Join the Regulars." Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer. If your condition is chronic, it is wise to consult a physician.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

FEET

Our feet are members which take a lot of punishment right from the cradle to the grave. They get squeezed into all kinds of shoes and they are asked to work and take us places whether the shoes hurt or not. It is no wonder that foot trouble is one of the modern world's commonest ailments. I suppose sore feet spoil more dispositions than any other complaint. And it is all so unnecessary.

The most important shoe fittings are those in babyhood. Then the foot is soft and pliable. It takes the shape of any shoe we happen to put on and if shoe is the wrong shape or size, permanent damage is done.

The other day I received a letter from a young couple in New York. They were having an argument over what kind of shoes to get the baby, who was just at the creeping stage. The mother thought the child should be left with bare feet until it started to walk, and the father thought that the child should get used to shoes right away so he wouldn't fine them awkward when he began to walk.

Well, I'm no foot specialist, but I think the child should be barefoot until he begins to walk. I know the Dionne Quintuplets didn't have a shoe on their feet until they were over a year old.

Good shoes—I mean well fitting shoes are very important to a child. Yet, unfortunately there seem to be more ill-fitting shoes on children than there are properly fitting ones.

Shoes should never have to be "broken in." They should fit the baby's foot right at the start.

When a baby under two years of age has his foot placed in a badly fitting shoe, or in a shoe that is the wrong shape, the soft feet are moulded into the shape of the shoe. The bones of the foot of a small child aren't bones at all, they are cartilage, or soft gristle. This soft foot is pressed into the shape of the shoe, and when the bones harden they stay in this shape. When a person is about 20 years of age the foot has taken on a shape that it will keep the rest of that person's life. They may not be the feet needed for his height and weight or manner of walking. The result is chronic foot troubles.

When a child is young the soft cartilage of the foot can be forced into unnatural shapes without causing pain. Because the child doesn't complain that his feet hurt, the parents often accept the shoes as a good fit when they are not.

There isn't the slightest need for this common mistake in the care of the baby. Correctly designed baby shoes can be bought in almost any shoe store and it is no difficult problem to make sure that the shoes are a good fit.

The best shoe for a baby is one with a soft, pliable upper, elk skin for instance, and pliable, flexible soles. I think it is important to buy a good quality shoe which is so made that no stitching or tacks can come through the insole and irritate the foot. It should fit firmly, but not tightly at the instep and heel but there should be ample room at the toe.

AROUND CITY HALL

City of New Castle is preparing to pay out of 1940 money, a bill owed in 1923. The bill amounts to $1,235, and is for land taken for Dean park. The money will be paid to the heirs of Elmer and Ina Neilson also known as Nelson. The viewers awarded the heirs that amount. An appeal was taken but not forced. The city agreed to settle without interest and the court confirmed the award as of present date.

City Council has invested in behalf of the Police Pension fund $2,250, in U. S. Savings bonds. The pension fund amounted to approximately $5,600, at the beginning of the present fiscal year.

Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co. has given the city authority to erect a small shanty on the railroad's property, in South Jefferson street. The shanty will be a tool-house used in connection with the improvement of the Big Run relocation of the sanitary sewer. The work will start Wednesday.

C. R. Balph, sealer of weights and inspector of measures, during January made 265 inspections in the city, he reported to council in city hall today. He made 30 adjustments. He also reported coal dealers had paid $178.00 for 1940 coal hauling licenses.

Two hundred and one arrests were made by city police and police court receipts amounted to $364, in January. The city general revenue also derived $95.00, from dance receipts. One hundred and seven persons were arrested for violating the parking ordinance, three were arrested for speeding and eight others for violating traffic regulations. Forty persons were charged with intoxication, 14 with being drunk and disorderly and one reportedly disorderly house was raided. Of the 201, one hundred and twenty four paid fines and costs. Ten abandoned cash forfeits.

Finance Director James L. Fink presented to council a letter from the American LaFrance Fire Engine company showing the city has paid entirely for the Triple combination pumper. It was bought for about $5,300 and paid for during a course of several years. The letter was put in the records.

Federal Income Tax In Nutshell

NORMAL TAX AND SURTAX RATES

The Internal Revenue Code provides for only one normal tax rate, that is, 4 percent of the amount of the net income in excess of the allowable credits such as the personal exemption, credit for dependents, etc. The law provides for an additional credit for the purpose of the normal tax of an earned income credit, that is, 10 percent of the amount of the earned net income but not in excess of 10 percent of the amount of the net income. The personal exemption and credit for dependents are also allowable as credits against the net income for the purpose of the surtax, the resulting net income being designated "surtax net income." The surtax is imposed on surtax net incomes in excess of $4,000. The rates increase in accordance with the amount of surtax net income included in varying so-called surtax brackets. On a surtax net income of $4,000 or less there is no surtax. On a surtax net income in excess of $4,000 and not in excess of $6,000, the rate is 4 percent of such excess. The surtax upon a surtax net income of $6,000 is $80 and upon a surtax net income in excess of $6,000 and not in excess of $8,000 the rate is 5 percent of such excess in addition to the $80, or a surtax of $180 upon a surtax net income of $8,000. The surtax on a surtax net income of $5,000,000 is $3,591,000, and upon a surtax net income in excess of $5,000,000, 75 percent, the maximum rate, is applicable to such excess, in addition to the $3,591,000. Many taxpayers make the error of applying the maximum rate instead of the rate provided for in the bracket in which their surtax net income is included.

Following is an example of how to compute the tax on a net income of $8,500, all of which represents earned net income, the taxpayer being single and without dependents:

Net income	$8,500
Less personal exemption	1,000
Balance (surtax net income)	7,500
Earned income credit	850
Net income subject to normal tax	6,650
Surtax at 4 percent on amount of surtax net income in excess of $4,000 but not over $6,000, 4 percent on 2,00	80
Surtax at 5 percent on amount of surtax net income in excess of $6,000 but not over $8,000, 5 percent on $1,500	75
Total	155
Normal tax, 4 percent on $6,650	266
Total normal tax and surtax	421

Taxpayers are advised to read carefully the instructions accompanying Form 1040 relating to the earned-income credit and surtax, as well as all other instructions thereon, before preparing their returns.

Scout Groups Are Led By Volunteer Workers In County

"Citizenship And Scouting" To Be Theme For Local Celebration

"SCOUTING," founded 30 years ago has grown to such an extent that right here in Lawrence County there are now 39 troops with nearly 1,000 Scouts. Who leads them?, not a paid organization, but a group of citizens who give much of their time and money and especially the 39 Scoutmasters with as many assistants, who spend anywhere from one to three evenings every week with the boys.

They all have but one thought, better citizens in the future, and to help them in this their goal, they are planning their annual dinner in the Cathedral dining room on Monday evening, February 12, at 6:15 o'clock. At this time they will present Colonel Lynn G. Adams, Commissioner of the Pennsylvania Motor Police, of Harrisburg, who will talk on, "Citizenship And Scouting."

If you are not directly connected with Scouting you can show your appreciation and interest by calling 5477 or 811 and tell them to have a Scout bring you the tickets you'll need. The tickets are 75 cents.

New Wilmington Faces Shenango

Clash Tonight At East New Castle Tops Section 20 Card

UNION HIGH HOST TO BESSEMER FIVE

Heavy opposition confronts New Wilmington's stampeding cage machine tonight.

The classy "Greyhounds", pace setters in the torrid Section 20 circle, face Shenango township on the East New Castle battleground. Indications point to an overflow gallery. The fray looms as the headliner in the loop and will start immediately following the preliminary tiff.

Shenango is given a better than outside chance of toppling the college towners, who boast of a 14 game winning streak. The contest pairs W. Ovis and Paul Minner, a couple of sharpshooters. Minner is the district scoring sensation with 221 points. Ovis, Shenango's ace, is ripping the lace at a better than 10 points per tussle pace.

Bessemer-Union Township

In the Scotland Lane sector, Union township plays hosts to Bessemer in what should be one of the hottest affairs of the season. The Cement city clan recently handed the Union brigade a surprise setback. The Patterson edition is determined to avenge the defeat and remain in the second place slot which it shares along with Shenango.

Wampum high's fighting aggregation invades Mt. Jackson. Wampum hopes to branch out past the .500 standing. The game is anticipated to be fast and exciting. East Brook is idle.

Baseball Big Wigs Meeting

Owners And Managers Of National League Teams In Session

SEVERAL TRADES ARE ON "FIRE"

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—National League club owners meet today in New York to put the finishing touches on the 1940 playing schedule and to discuss the effects of the Landis proposals on their investments.

This is the annual schedule meeting and ordinarily only routine business is considered but there is so much uncertainty over the fate of "working agreements" with minor league clubs that the magnates put in a preliminary session yesterday at league headquarters.

Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball czar, probably got a thorough "going over" at this gathering.

Crosley Dinner Host

Revising the schedule to provide six of the eight clubs with seven night dates also comes under the head of new business. The Pittsburgh and St. Louis clubs only recently decided to install lighting plants next season.

Tonight Powel Crosley, president of the Cincinnati club, entertains the other club owners at a dinner in accordance with National League custom of the pennant winner consoling the seven losers in the grand manner.

No deals were reported today although six of the eight managers lingered in the city.

NEW ZEALAND PUNISHMENT

New Zealand is to adopt the American method of punishing intoxicated motorists with jail sentences served at week-ends. Originally magistrates imposed fines, but when such action did not appear to be meeting the case, terms of imprisonment were imposed. But imprisonment meant that the offender lost pay and possibly his job, which imposed a hardship on his wife and children. Under the American system the offender is put in prison at the week-ends only.

Afield And Astream

With Lawrence County Sportsmens Association

By GEORGE SILLMAN

A HUNTIN' WE DID GO

But all through the day we heard little chorus's of a very popular song sung by the prey itself. Now let me see if I can remember it, oh yes, "Nay, nay, nay said the little fox, nay, nay, you can't catch me." He wasn't fooling either. Last Saturday the Sportsmen's Council sponsored a free for all fox hunt, in Hell's Hollow. Matter of fact, fox were shot at, and missed of course. Great horned owls shot and one unluckly got in the path of a lead pellet. Men tumbling down miniature mountain sides, falling into snow drifts up to their necks. One man, whose name I won't mention, but he does happen to be the president of the Ellwood City Sportmen's club, got too warm crawling up and down hills, decided to take just a little dip in the creek. He started across the ice which look OK before he crashed through to his vest pockets. I didn't happen to be on the spot at the time, but those who were there said he stayed in for several minutes before coming to the sands on the shores (maybe it was snow). After all what's the use of taking a swim, if one don't stay in a little while at least. Soon the boys retrieved Mr. President and after emptying his canvas pockets of water he started for the car. But this is just one of the things that is never planned that always happen to make it a real day. You have more fun than in a flea circus on one of these hunts. Never a dull moment, no sir!

Why not join us next Saturday on this tri county fox hunt, and I'll bet you won't be sorry for coming out. Good sport, good exercise, lots of fun, and everything free but your lunch. After-all we could take care of this small matter, but one fellow likes cheese sandwiches, another ham, another something else, so it would be better if each man brings his own, to save confusion. I knew you fellers wouldn't mind, thanks.

Shotguns will be the only weapons permitted in the chase. Loving cups, trophies for best dogs, and other prizes. Watch this paper for more details later.

Nice Work Harry

I think our club has one man they can be proud of. By that I mean Harry McCormick, who has taken a bunch of Junior Legion boys under his wing and is teaching them conservation in the first degrees. I can assure the parents of these young boys that they are in good care when Harry has them. I just know that fellow well enough to know that he is in his glory when these young future sportsmen of our county are under his wing. Each one of them will receive the attention of an honest to goodness father, as far as teaching the youngsters in conservation and wild-life work is concerned. Nice piece of going Harry, and congratulations.

Don't Forget the Next Meeting

The next regular meeting of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association is one week from tonight. Better mark that down on your calendar, so you won't forget. Pictures have been secured from the Wisconsin conservation department for this meeting. Many important matters will also be discussed. Plans are progressing slowly, as far as the banquet is concerned. The date has been set for March 28th. (The last Thursday of the month.) Ross L. Leffler, president of the game commission, will again be the principal speaker. Excellent color movies have already been engaged for the occasions.

There were only two games played in the New Castle Church league last night. The First Christians forfeited to the Third U. P. team.

In the first games the Greek Orthodox, Class A leaders lost their first game of the second-half to the First Presbyterians 35 to 23. At the half the score was even at 11-11. Tommy McCormick with 19 points was the standout player along with Johnny Poleno. The absence of "Socks" Roussos hurt the "Fighting Sons of Spartan".

The St. Vitus team swamped the First Baptist team in the final game 47 to 29. At the half the score was 19 to 12 in favor of the Saints. Scoring stars were—Campbell, Frasier, Cooper, Pagley, Marcella and Forconi.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Officials of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's association would appreciate a crowd of 600 or more from Butler, Mercer and Lawrence counties to participate in the fox hunt at nine a. m. Saturday, which will begin at Pryor's station on the Butler road. Every fox hunter who has a dog that will run a fox is requested to bring it along. Rifles are banned. A silver cup will be awarded the first dog reaching the fox after the fox is shot. Dr. L. A. Wygant of 'this city has put up the trophy. The idea of the tri-county fox hunt is to get rid of the foxes which now are reported running in pairs and trios, because they have been exterminating game. Captains include Rick Roberts, Fish Warden Clint White, George Norris, Harold Parker, president of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's council, Scott McCaslin, 'Pappy' Gibson, Arthur Wade, James Cypher and the Shaffer brothers.

Within the next week or more the Lawrence County Baseball league will hold a meeting in the Sport Goods store for the purpose of organizing for the 1940 season. The league started in 1922. Bessemer won last year's flag. According to reports there is a likelihood of several county players landing with minor teams this season. Johnny Pepe may get a chance having played for a time with a minor loop team last season until he returned to Hillsville. Jimmy Tropea, 17, Bessemer center fielder hit .356 last season. Nick Caldararo left fielder and third baseman for Hillsville, hit 428. Bessemer, Hillsville, New Castle Hot Tops (New Galilee), Ellwood City, New Castle Red Sox, Frisco and Wampum composed the 1939 circuit. The league officers would like to have an eight club loop.

When the Jefferson Athletic club holds a boxing show in the Arena, two weeks from last night, the fans will see a battle which will involve two of the best Beaver Valley amateurs, Jack Grimes, Sun-Tele Diamond Belt champion at 160 and Sully Tonti. Grimes resides in Aliquippa and Tonti domiciles in Midland. The rivalry between them is so intense their words of "what each will do to the other" are somewhat vitrolic. In another scrap, Tommy Yarosz, brother to ex-Champion Ted, will fight Sunny Horn, the Biles welterweight. The show looks so enticing fans already are placing order for pasteboards.

Complete Plans For League Event

Dinner Thursday Evening Will See Plans Made For Coming Golf Season

CITY GOLFERS DINE THURSDAY

With reservations already in for over a hundred, a big turnout is looked for at the dinner for members of the Sylvan Heights Golf League at the city-owned course on the Ellwood City road, Thursday evening.

Plans for the event are in charge of Geno Veri, general chairman, who states that the dinner will be followed by an informal social period, and a business session whe next year's league season will be discussed.

During the course of the evening, the league trophy will be presented to Al Scarazzo, sponsor of the championship Iron City team, the co-captains of which were Harry Toscano and Charles Perrotta.

The Sylvan Heights League is the oldest golf league in the county. The idea was gained following a series of matches between the Blair Strip Steel team, captained by "Tucker" Nolan, and the Bell Telephone team, captained by Ralph F. Davis, ten years ago; and resulted in the organization of the City Industrial league, under Bill Connery and William G. Fleming.

The league has been one of the staunchest supporters of the local municipal course, which is ranked among the finest in the country, has a beautiful clubhouse with accommodations for parties and banquets, good locker rooms and shower rooms.

The present officers of the league, are: president, A. B. Jackson; vice president, William Browning; secretary, Charles E. Allen; handicap committee, Ernie Palus, and Charles Perrotta.

In addition to the teams represented last year, it is expected that representatives from the Johnson Bronze Co., Shenango Pottery, Universal Sanitary Manufacturing Co., Fort Pitts, Blair Strip Steel, Bell Telephone Co., Pennsylvania Engineering Works, and National Radiator Co., will be in attendance at the coming meeting.

Sports World Ramblings

Local Sport Vignettes:— Many localites will desert the sports circle tonight to watch Johnny Dean, New Castle's middleweight, battle Billy Bengal, classy Detroiter, in Youngstown. Dean is standing pat on his recent decree: "If I lose to Bengal, I'll hang up the mitts for good." Here's hoping Dean steals the show with the most impressive performance of the night. . . . A Croton lad, still in his "teens", is peddling a yarn to the effect that Billy Conn was working here as a milkman about three years ago. Said lad, who hopes to be a fighter, says he used to see the now light heavy king on the truck in the Croton sector. . . .

Hank Greenberg probably experienced the biggest home run slump in the history of the game in '39. He dropped off 25 four base clouts after slashing out 58 the year before. . . . The Browns recently re-elected all officers. . . . The House of DiMaggios will draw down something like $50,000 from the big league coffers this year. Joe will likely sign for $32,500; Vince and Dominic figure to net the balance. . . . Since Lefty O'Doul joined the Pacific Coast League, serving as a manager of San Francisco, he has sold more than $150,000 worth of baseball ivory. . . .

Breezy Diamond Bits:—"Babe" Ruth, the champ swatter of all time, will be 46 years old on Wednesday. . . . Pittsburgh's Forbes Field light plant will include 864 flood lights with a combined total of more than 210 million candlepower which could furnished sufficient illumination to light all homes in a city of 25,000 persons. . . . Coming from such a former star as Lefty O'Doul, Joe DiMaggio should treasure the recent plug he received from the former great. A member of the pen family quizzed O'Doul about DiMag. O'Doul disagreed with the scribe who claimed that Joe was a better fielder than Speaker. "DiMaggio is better than anybody who ever played the game", was O'Doul's comment.

The 50 cent lift will be used for the acquisition and improvement of public fishing waters. Said bill may be sponsored during the next legislative get together. . . . Joe Louis' No. 1 rooter in New Castle is Peter Wright, of Green street. Wright, a carpenter, happens to be the heavyweight champ's uncle. Needless to say, Wright will be at his radio-side seat listening to his nephew defend his title against Arturo Godoy, Friday. FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

Some like it hot and some like it cold . . . the climate we are talking about . . . but not many people like it in between, unless it is the gumboot salesman. It almost necessitates the wearing of something good and dry on your feet if you plan to walk the downtown streets. Here in our office the stairs are made from light colored marbel . . . each evening they are scrubbed down and by nine o'clock in the morning they are in nice shape . . . the foot prints of hundreds are marked there. An amateur detective could have a lot of fun tracing these foot prints. But it won't be long until spring will be here.

What do you think about the good news that has appeared on the front page of this paper the past two days. Saturday the story about the Penn Power addition and last night the story about the Conn Welding and Machine Company's new building . . . Yes my friends, as we have said before and will say many times more . . . New Castle is not dead . . . with your support and fighting spirit this town will keep right on going along the path to good times. But it is very important that we all keep our upper lip stiff.

Here is a little prayer that was sent to us by a representative of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association . . . with the note that it might be a good thing if each driver of a motor truck or pleasure car would keep the thought in mind while driving the ribbons of concrete that span this country of ours.

Give me a steady hand and watchful eyes,
That no man may be hurt as I pass by.
Thou gavest life I pray no act of mine
May take away or mar that gift of Thine.
Shelter those, dear Lord, who bear me company
From evils of fire and all calamity,
Teach me to use my car for other's need,
Nor miss through love of speed,
The beauties of Thy world, that thus I may
With joy and courtesy go on my way!

By LESLIE GOULD

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—The stock market steadied today but a few issues continued to lag and many pivotal stocks were unchanged. Trading again was lifeless.

Bethlehem Steel gained almost a point but gains in U. S. Steel, Republic and Youngstown Sheet & Tube were limited to minor fractions.

U. S. Rubber, General Motors, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, American Can, N. Y. Central, Pennsylvania, Anaconda, Phelps-Dodge, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Boeing and Douglas also were a shade higher. American Tobacco "B" on a fractional rise equaled its 1939-40 top.

Eastman Kodak dropped nearly 2 while U. S. Gypsum lost better than a point. Montgomery Ward, Liggett & Myers "B," American Telephone, United Aircraft and International Nickel also eased.

Paxton R. Fike Heads Company

Named To Succeed G. Y. Fike, His Father, As Head Of Circle Lumber Co.

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 6.—G. Y. Fike informed the board of directors of the Circle Lumber company of his retiring as president of that company. Mr. Fike intends to act in an advisory capacity for the next year and then retire.

The board accepted the retirement resignation with regret and elected Paxton R. Fike as president. Pax, as he is commonly called throughout the county, is the son of the retiring president and has been connected with the Circle Lumber company ever since its beginning here in Ellwood City some 18 years ago. Starting as a truck driver, Pax kept climbing up the ladder and for the past 12 years served as yard foreman.

He was born in Ellwood City but graduated from Niles, O., high school due to the family moving there for business reasons. While in Niles high school, he participated in all forms of athletics and when he came back to Ellwood City to live, the civic and industrial growth of the city became his chief hobby. Serving eight years on the borough council and handling the chairmanship of the Community Festival for two years and very active in the huge affair in other years have built up a host of friends throughout the county that wish Pax well in his new position and promotion.

The rest of the officers and directors of the company remain the same.

New Brighton Five Tops Shelby Stars

Capacity Crowd Sees Locals Lose 41 To 43 In Nip And Tuck Battle

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 6.—The Shelby Social All Star's winning streak was broken by the New Brighton Young G. O. P. cagers (formerly New Brighton merchants) 43 to 41 in a thrilling contest played last night at the Shelby auditorium before a capacity crowd.

The lead see-sawed back and forth continuously with the visitors leading 11 to 10 in the opening session, the county being 20-20 at the half and the local going ahead 32 to 31 after the third period. In the final chapter, the Socials jumped to a 38-35 lead only to have the Oak Hillers regain it 41 to 38. Free shots by Tomei, Friedhoff and Alex Robuck knotted the count at 41 to 41. With less than a minute, Carlo, expert long range scorer for the winners, made a basket from midcourt after which the victors "froze the ball" till the whistle sounded.

New Castle And Ellwood Cagers Tangle Tonight

Record Crowd Expected To See Old Rivals Play At Lincoln Court

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 6—While it will have no bearing on the title race, tonight's basketball game between Lawrence county's two section three teams, New Castle and Ellwood at the local Lincoln court will head the district's games in interest and rivalry.

Judging from past years, the gym will be filled to capacity at an early hour by local fans enthused with the perennial hope that the Blue and White may conquer the county seaters a feat they haven't been able to accomplish in almost a decade.

For the first time in several weeks, the Newton crew will be at full strength for the contest. Jerry Newton hadn't fully decided this morning on the starting lineup, but tentatively suggested Reino or Lanzi, at forward; Mattocks, at the other shooting place; Captain Tommy Murphy at center; and Seetch or Matrangol at guard while the other defensive place goes to Matrangol. The Wolverines think they might upset the New Castle five and while fans have no such anticipation, the willing Lincoln crew will provide plenty of opposition for the visitors.

The local skipper thinks that the second-half edition of the New Castle team is much more formidable than the first-half team and their victory over the unbeaten Ambridge crew on Friday night adds weight to his argument.

Reserves of the two teams will play a preliminary game at 7 o'clock with Joe Navolio as referee. Two of the outstanding officials of the Pittsburgh association, Wallace and Mellman, will officiate at the main game to begin at 8:15 p. m.

TOY DOLL SAVES LIFE

CHADRON, Neb.—The parents of Joan La Riviere were glad their baby daughter carried a toy rubber doll in her hands when she went to play in the driveway beside her home. A neighbor got into his automobile parked in the driveway and started to back up. He heard a squeak and stopped. The little girls had made no sound, but the car had run over the doll in her hands and she was next in line. She was uninjured.

Beginning Of Lent Will Be Observed At Trinity Church

Ash Wednesday Services Announced; Day Of Fasting For Episcopalians

Tomorrow, Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent, there will be three services in Trinity church. They are so arranged that all may have an opportunity to keep the day. Among Episcopalians it is a day of strict fasting and abstinance, which means that no meat will be eaten and only sufficient food to maintain life, that the body being in strict control, the spiritual nature may be more fully in command. Devout Episcopalians use it as a day of searching self examination, confession of sin, and prayer to God for strength in the future to lead a better and a more joyous Christian life of larger and fuller service to God and man. The special prayers, scripture readings, psalms appointed for Ash Wednesday, will be used. The services will be conducted by the rector, the Rev. Philip C. Pearson, as follows: 9 a. m., morning prayer; 9:30 a. m. Litany, penitential office and holy communion: 8 p. m. litany, penitential office and sermon, wth hymns, offering, closing prayers and benediction. The sining will be led by the senior choir at the evening service with Miss Isabel T. Johnson, at the organ.

CHARGE YOUTHS CAUSE DAMAGE TO TOMBSTONES

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Feb. 6.—State Motor Police at the Mercer barracks today announced the arrest of two Pardoe youths who last August 29 upset about 20 tombstones in Findley cemetery, east of Mercer, and caused damage to highway signs and mailboxes along the Grove City road.

The youths, John Shaffer, 18, and John Krofcheck, 20, will be given a hearing today before Justice of the Peace Thomas McClain in Mercer on charges of malicious mischief and vandalism.

They told police that because they were drunk they remembered little about the spree that resulted in extensive damage to the cemetery. Their arrest today followed five months' extensive investigation by state police who had practically no clues to aid in solving the crime.
